

Mommies With Style Write-Up

DECEMBER 10, 2006

Adorable Notepads and Cute Vinyl Labels

Notepads and Vinyl Labels are just two of the many items now available at Tickle Bellies. Cool Baby Graphics creator Colleen Bouchard was creating a birth announcement for her daughter when she realized there weren't many fun, simple, affordable announcements available. Thus she began Tickle Bellies.

Tickle Bellies offers the cutest line of announcements, notepads, note cards, moving announcements, invitations, and labels for everything you can imagine! It isn't just a product you select, it's a product you create! My husband and I had so much fun selecting faces, hair styles, hair color, font, background, and title for our family notepad. It turned out absolutely adorable and we love using it for all those occasions when you quickly need to send a note along for something.

We also love the vinyl labels available from Tickle Bellies. Vinyl labels make it easy to put your child's name on sippy cups and bottles or anything else you need your child's name on that you wash over and over and over. Vinyl Labels are extremely durable waterproof labels that can handle repeated washings through the dishwasher and they are microwave safe. Tickle Bellies has so many cute designs to choose from it is seriously hard to narrow it down to pick one!

For the holidays check out their holiday gift tags, holiday address labels and holiday cards! Order by December 15th to assure delivery for Christmas. MWS readers can receive FREE SHIPPING. Just type in Mommies With Style in the comments section when you place your order. The discount will be taken when the order is processed so it might not show up on the invoice but it will show up on your credit card.