Tickle Bellies: Personalized stationary, labels and more

Tickle Bellies founder, Colleen, created TickleBellies.com after designing a birth announcement for her second daughter Ellie. Colleen realized that there weren't a lot of fun, yet simple, birth announcements available on the market that were affordable.

She didn't stop at birth announcements though.

Realizing that parents would pay for her designs, she branched out into other print products including 'From the Mom of...' notepads, personalized address labels and more.

Colleen recently sent me a few absolutely adorable items. I received a 'From the Mom of...' notepad with cute little pictures that represent my kids very well (above). The notepad includes 100 sheets which will probably last the rest of this school year and into the next. I don't have to write notes to Sebastian's teacher on notebook paper anymore!

Shopping at Tickle Bellies is fun. First you choose the items you want then you select hair styles, hair color, skin color, and more so the finished product will represent your family perfectly.

Visit Tickle Bellies to view the large selection of personalized notepads, labels, luggage tags, birth announcements, and invitations. Why not get your Valentine's Day cards at Tickle Bellies?
